If it is true, the Japanese have got in the rear of the Russian advance into Corea. and are in position to control the southern end of the railroad running by a roundabout route from Takushan to Newchwang, over which the Russian troops now in Corea must obtain their supplies.

The reason for the incredulity mentioned is that Fengwangcheng is so far from the place where the Japanese advance was last reported and such a considerable distance In the interior of Manchuria. It is on the great Pekin road which runs through Corea, and is, in fact, the only road of importance in that country. It is about 165 miles northwest of Ping Yang, where the advance of the Japanese army was encamped at last accounts, and where Russian scouts were encountered. There is no official confirmation of this or of the reported engagement between a Japanese squadron and the Vladivostok equadron. It is reported that the Hwangchinshal Fort at Port Arthur was half ruined in an earlier bombardment, and that now only three of the shore batteries there can be used.

PARIS, March 9.- The Petit Parisien has despatch from Tokio saying that there is a rumor in high circles there that the Japanese fleet is preparing to attack Port Arthur again. It is understood that orders have been issued to block the harbor at all costs sinking gunboats or coast defence vessels if necessary to effect that object. The Government is fearful that the Russian ships may intercept Japanese transports.

RUSSIA 400,000-JAPAN 200,000. How Russian Minister of War Says the Forces Will Size Up.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN PARIS, March 9.- The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Figaro telegraphs that he interviewed Gen. Sakharoff, the Minister of War. The Minister said the concentration of Russian troops in the Orient was progressing in the most satisfactory manner. The minimum number concentrated there would be 400,000. He considered that the maximum Japan would be able to land would be 200,000.

Russia would require a month to complete the transportation of the troops. Nothing serious could occur in Manchuria within the next six weeks. He insisted that the subject of reprovisioning the troops and garrisons would create no uneasiness. He believed that Japan had landed 100,000 troops in Corea already.

The General added: "The war will last until a logical and necessary conclusion has been reached; for I do not think the Russians are in a mood to stop before quite finishing. I know nothing of any of withdrawing the troops behind Port Arthur and leaving the place to defend it-

UNDERTAKER DESCRIBES MISS-ING MAN'S WIFE AS MISS FENTON.

The Bill for Her Funeral Was $1,080 and the Undertaker Has Not Seen Stowe Since Burial Day—Stowe Missing From New Orleans for a Fortnight.

William J. Dargeon, an undertaker at 954 Amsterdam avenue, has brought an action in the Supreme Court to recover $1,080 from Victor R. Stowe, whose disappearance from New Orleans was reported n the newspapers last Sunday. Stowe, who came from Martinsburg, Mo., is the owner of the 30-foot sloop yacht Vim, which he has sailed under the colors of the Harlem Yacht Club. He disappeared from a hotel in New Orleans about sixteen days ago. The day before he disappeared he ITO'S MISSION TO COREA. Japan Expects Excellent Results From 1 -Reforms on Japanese Lines.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. Tokio, March 9.- The Japan Times says that the mission of Marquis Ito as special Imperial Ambassador to the court of Seoul is welcomed by every Japanese who is conscious of the gravity of the responsibilities placed on Japan's shoulders with regard to Corea. It must not be inferred that the mission is political in its nature. The Marquis is the bearer of a personal message from the Emperor of Japan to the Corean sovereign of no immediate political significance; but it cannot be denied that the presence in, Seoul at the present juncture of a statesman of Ito's standing and prestige must be productive of beneficial and far reaching effects on the future relations of the two countries.

The Nichi Nichi says that Japan, appreciating the difficulties facing the Corean Emperor in inaugurating reforms in domestic and foreign affairs, in accordance with the new protocol, as a mark of friendly sympathy despatches her most experienced and venerable statesman to counsel him and to cement the friendship between the two countries. CHURCH ROW OVER FERMENTER WEBER

WINE MERCHANT GETS IN AND FIVE OTHERS GET OUT.

Asst. Paster Martin of Brookish Congregational Church Extendeth Not His Hand to Mr. Dewey, and Resigns, With Five Others-Partor Welcomes Him. There is a highly localized but extremely acute case of internal irritation in the Lewis Avenue Congregational Church in Brooklyn. The first symptoms were developed when Mr. George E. Dewey was admitted to full membership in the church, last Sunday, Mr. Dewey deals in American wines in Fulton street in this borough.

The Lewis avenue church has some 1,100 members. At least five of them think that it is a shamefully inconsistent thing that Mr. Dewey should have been taken into the church, notwithstanding the fact that he has been attending services there for at least fifteen years and has contributed liberally to the church funds in that time. The first spasm of pain which developed in the congregation over the admission of Mr. Dewey, came from Assistant Pastor E. M. Martin. He felt so bad over the matter that he resigned. So did Deacon Byron J. Horton and his wife. So did two other church members, of some prominence. But these five insist that they are merely representative of a great body of the church membership which has not the courage of its convictions. They point to the cordiality with which Mr. Martin was treated at a Christian Endeavor meeting of the young people of the church last Tuesday night, as evidence of great latent strength of the Prohibition cause in the

The other four months he lives in his vineyards at Egg Harbor, N. J., superintending the pressing of the grape and the bottling of the juice of the same. He said yesterday:

to me and in which I have so many friends. If I believed that there was any real quarrel about my admission, if I believed that whatever stir has been made represented any real disturbance of the peace and good will of the church, I would get out. But I have been an attendant at the church services for fifteen years. My children have been church members ever since they were old enough to know their own minds. "As for Mr. Martin, I do not know what he may have to say against me. I do not know what he may have to say against me. I do not know what he may have to say against my business. But I know that within a week before my admission to the church he met me after a church meeting and reached out for my hand and shook it most warmly to a secret passageway through which they desired to go, when Frank and Treriz for my hand and shook it most warmly and cordially and said he was very glad to see me there. Since then I have not seen him. I had no word or intimation from him engineers under arrest, learning that the men were acting under the orders of Heinze himself. Then the marshal and one of his deputies went to the office of Heinze and that my membership was not regarded favorably by him. I haven't a word to say against him and I am very sorry that he has felt called upon to leave the church.

"The only word of criticism I have heard, or of anything like criticism was that which I got from a good square man. Deacon placed him under arrest.

For a previous refusal to admit the inspectors, Heinze was fined $2,000 by Judge Beatty of the Federal court and Frank and Treriz $500 each. The fines, however, were suspended provided no further obstruction was placed in the way of the inspectors. Heinze took an appeal and the Circuit Court confirmed the decision of Judge Beatty. The fines will now have to be paid, and additional charges of contempt will have to be defended by Heinze and his engineers. I got from a good, square man, Deacon John J. Wells. He is a Prohibitionist and a sincere one. I like him and I like his methods. I always have, though I have always known that his ideas about my husiness were not my ideas. The other always known that his ideas about my business were not my ideas. The other day be came to me and stated his principles to me. He was frank and honest about it. But at the end he said to me:

"They tell me that Deacon Wells has resigned. I don't believe it. It isn't so. He stands by what he says."

Mr. Dewey went on to say that he could not see anything inconsistent with his membership in a Congregational Church while he was a dealer in fermented grape juice, as long as it was honestly and scientifically prepared and not adulterated. He could see some reason in the objections to his membership if there were any allegations that he did not conduct his business honestly. But he laughed to scorn any danger of such intimations.

The Rev. Dr. Robert J. Kent, the pastor of the church, is an old friend of Mr. Dewey and of Mr. Dewey's family. There was the greatest rejoicing on the part of Dr. Kent and his friends when it became known that Mr. Dewey, at the solicitation of his business and decided to ground which the courts decreed to belong that Mr. Dewey, at the solicitation of his children and his family, had decided to apply for active membership in the church. Dr. Kent, in the meeting which was called Dr. Kent, in the meeting which was called to consider Mr. Dewey's application, drew attention to the ideal conditions under which the Dewey family dwelt together in the neighborhood of the church. He reminded the brethren that it was one of the few families where twenty-five brothers and sisters and cousins sat down to dinner on frequent family anniversaries and made Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN HANOVER, March 9 .- The funeral of Field Marshal Count von Waldersee was attended by the Crown Prince, who escorted Countess von Waldersee. He brought a wreath from the Emperor. Among the others present were repre-sentatives of the United States and other countries, Princes Henry and Albert, a number of other Princes, sixty Generals and a large number of officials.

After the services to-day the body was conveyed with military honors to the railway station for transference to Neversdoz, where the burial will take place to-morrow

TAX ON LABORERS FOR PANAMA Legislature of Jamaica Takes Action Prevent Emigration.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 9.-The Legislature passed to-day a bill practically prohibiting emigration to Panama. Laborers desiring to go there will be compelled to pay $15 each, and contractors will have to pay $10 for every man secured in Jamaica for the work. The measure causes great dissatisfaction here. The Government is trying to arrange with Washington about getting laborers. FILIPINO COUNTERFEITERS. Who Have Been Making Revenue

Stamps Caught. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. Manilla, March 9.-Government officers have arrested two Filipino lithographers who have been making a large number cleverly counterfeited revenue stamps of high denominations and circulating them through bank employees.

Cologne Bankers Fall. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
COLOGNE, March 9.—Horn & Co., bankers, have failed, involving houses in Paris and

The failure of Horn & Co. was looked upon by international banking houses here as unimportant. It is ascribed to the bull speculation carried on in Europe on the presumption that there would be no war between Russia and Japan, and is only one of a number of European failures which have followed the outbreak of war.

Filipine Commission to St. Louis.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

MANILA, March 9.—The St. Louis exposition commission has been completed. Eleven of those to whom places upon it were offered declined on the ground that their services were needed in the Philippines. The fortythree commissioners include Justice Arellano. Attorney-General Areneta and Govs.

THE LADIES'

PUBLICATIONS

HOME JOURNAL is not the only profitable advertising medium, but it is generally conceded tising agents that it is the one best medium, especially for anything appealing directly to women. That is, it is the one best medium for general advertising-to introduce anything all over the country. If you desire to take up one section of the country at a time, of course you will use local mediums; if so, concentrate; use only the best papers of the locality you want to cover. "Scatteration" is the curse of American business life. Select with care the one best medium to reach the class of people you want, use liberal space -big enough to make sure that everybody sees it.
